Mayors Roundtable on Urban Waters Federal Partnership to Convene During Brownfields Conference

HQ OIR continues to work with the Office of Water on planning for the “Connecting Mayors and Local Government Organizations to the Urban Waters Program Roundtable” scheduled to convene on September 2 during the Brownfields Conference in Chicago, Illinois. The Partnership is an innovative union of fourteen Federal agencies seeking to reconnect communities, particularly those that are underserved, with their urban waterways. Twenty-six mayors are being invited by Mike Shapiro, Deputy Assistant Administrator, Office of Water, and Mark Rupp, Deputy Associate Administrator for Intergovernmental Relations (OCIR), to participate in the roundtable, including New Orleans Mayor Mitch Landrieu.

Administrator Invited to Address MRTI

Administrator McCarthy has been invited to address the Annual Meeting of the Mississippi River Cities & Towns Initiative MRCTI on September 15th in Dubuque, IA. During the Plenary Breakfast, she has been asked to engage the member mayors on the Clean Water Rule. The Mississippi River Cities & Towns Initiative is a group of mayors leading a coalition in support of efforts to raise the national profile of the Mississippi River basin.
